

4.6.3: Cite!

Reflection

Think about a video, image, or article from the Internet you recently shared or used for school.

1. Where did you share or use the video, image, or article?
2. Why did you share or use the video, image, or article?
3. Create a citation for the video, image, or article. You can use any specific format you prefer, such as MLA or APA. Your citation should include: Name of author, name of work, year of work, name of site you sourced it from, and a direct link.

There are many resources that can help you create a citation. If you need help citing in a specific format, check out <https://www.mybib.com/>.
